An Interactive Infographic on Digital Awareness: Web Science
University of Southampton, ECS, INFO2009 2012
Group 15

Digital Futures Awareness – Web Science
Universities want to recruit the best students, the IT industry bemoans a skill shortage in computing and IT related employment, government is changing the school curriculum to introduce more computer science into undergraduate education. An understanding of digital futures can be informative for the newly graduated student and inspiring for students facing future career choices.

Students who you wish to encourage to study subjects in the computing disciplines.

Group members:
Younsoo Kim: ysk1g10@soton.ac.uk (lg3)
Lauren Long: ll20g11@soton.ac.uk (lg3)
Rachel Ranaldi: rsr2g11@soton.ac.uk (lg3)
Olja Rastic-Dulborough: ord1c08@soton.ac.uk (lg3)
Tan Tan: tt3e11@soton.ac.uk (hcd)
Elliot Yandzio: ey2g11@soton.ac.uk (lg3)

Tutors:
Lester Gilbert (lg3)
Professor Hugh C. Davis (hcd)
An Introduction to Web Science

An Interactive Infographic on Digital Futures Awareness: Web Science

KEYWORDS
- Web Science
- Society
- Social Science
- Internet
- Technology
- Semantic Web
- World Wide Web
- Computer Science
- Undergraduate Degree

WHO IS IT FOR?
- A-Level Students

REFERENCE

Interactive infographic including an interview with a Web Science professor

Introduction students to a new emerging science

To be displayed on the university website to explain web science in an engaging way

FIND OUT MORE AT:
- http://infogr.am/Web-Science-78288
- http://www.edshure.soton.ac.uk/10000/

REFERENCES