

Task: Student Generated Content

You can complete this task as a small group:

You were asked to look at the (rather old and distinctly US centric) vision of students today.

Produce a short video or animation that explains life for students today for the Foundation Year.

This might be generally looking at technology, or it might look at the situation of mature students or international students, or any other focussed perspective which you think is important.

Please upload your video to YouTube.

If you plan to do this task, but do not think you have sufficient time to complete for handin, you can create a storyboard and fully explained plan which you add as an appendix to your completed template

Complete the template to provide a link to the resource and briefly explain the content and rationale for the resource. You can choose to submit this task.

Template for video or animation

Resource Title
Resource Type
Resource location (url)
Author(s)
Keywords Up to five, separated by commas
Brief Description approx. 250 words
How it will be useful Why you are recommending it to your fellow students Approx. 250 words

Appendix (optional see introduction) StoryBoard