

Task: Student Resource Recommendation

Individually: Many students have their own favourite books, videos or other resources which they find helpful in relation to their studies. These are materials which are in addition to the set texts and links which are provided by the academics who teach them.

Typical resources might include a study guide, some inspirational biography, autobiography or popular science text. It might be a magazine to which you subscribe, a blog, podcast or set of online videos. Most important is that this is a personal and individual recommendation.

If you would like to recommend a resource, you can do this in a formal manner so that it can be shared across the cohort.

Complete the template to provide a link to the resource and briefly explain the content and rationale for the resource. You can choose to submit this task.

Template for found resource

Resource Title
Resource Author/publisher
Resource Type
Resource Location or other additional information May be website, isbn or similar
Keywords Up to five, separated by commas
Brief Description approx. 250 words
How you have found it useful Why you are recommending it to your fellow students Approx. 250 words	