Lecture: Digital Health I Professor Catherine Pope Introductory lecture exploring the interface between the Web and Health. We will look at ICT and internet technologies in the delivery of healthcare and the impact of these and the Web on health and illness. This lecture will cover definitions of 'digital health', the broader policy context and the development of sociological approaches to this field. We will examine research on telemedicine/telehealth and consider the wider politics of digital health.	Student led seminar READINGS Nettleton S.
